

Group Supervision for Team Coaching

For graduates of team coach training who want support with their team coaching work.

Group Supervision for Team Coaching is an opportunity to continue your development through collaboration with a group of team coaches, under the guidance and supervision of Tammy Tuner.

In accessing and harnessing the diverse experience and wisdom each participant brings, you in turn will enhance and develop to the benefit of yourself and your clients.

Some common benefits include:

- Accelerate greater understanding and awareness through collaboration.
- Learn new approaches, theories, models and techniques.
- Enjoy personal & professional support as a collective reflection on your work.
- Develop skills through the exchange of information, observation and practical experience review.

"...learn together through honest dialogue and consistent reflection to enhance both yourself and the system."

“Team coaching is complex, uncertain and to be honest quite scary. I have been part of team coaching supervision groups for three years now, and I would not be able to practice team coaching without them. We compare experiences, learn together and support each other in a safe space.”

Helen Zink, Leadership and Team Coach, Grow to be Limited

WHAT MAY BE COVERED

The groups will be governed by the content you bring, such as:

- Working with a co-coach
- Handling a difficult client sponsor
- Moving a team (and my comfort zone!) from facilitation, team building, training, strategy, etc to team coaching
- What to do when psychological safety suffers
- Working with the team leader (who is a bully/perfectionist/mother hen/hides behind a mask)
- Team dynamics (nothing sticks in between sessions/conflict/niceness or politeness/covid or working virtually)
- Using PERILL pillars

WHAT TO EXPECT

In each session you will be a peer contributor and share your observations & learning with others in the group. For each 90-minute zoom session the group will decide what topics, issues or cases will be covered. This means you may be more of a participant, rather than someone who directly receives supervision.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

- 5 monthly supervision sessions
- Session duration of 1.5 hours
- Supervision group limited to 8 people
- Virtual meetings via Zoom
